

Data centres: enablers of our digital world and backbone of the future global economy