Inflation is good for business – if you can pass price increases onto customers